Florence was the first favorite to win, and McCafferty bet enough on her to pay stable expenses all Winter. Then came the Marshall-Red Banner race, which the former captured at odds of 10 to 1. The Ironmaster opened at 6-to 1 in the third and went to the post at 5 to 1. He won rather handly. Rumors come from Chleago that the Clifford Yo Tambien-Lamplighter race was not as fair and square as it might have been. Dark hints are circulated that Clifford was short of weight in the race, and when Chris Smith intimated as much to Eugene Leigh, the latter is alleged to have asserted that Smith was a near relation of Amanias. Smith's hand sought his hip pocket, and a second later the sun flashed from the polished barrel of a revolver. Leigh was just as quick, and but for the prompt intervention of friends a bloody duel might have been fought.

As yet no confirmation of this alleged drawing of guns has come from the West, and it may be a fanciful creation of somebody's imaginative brain. In time the true story may come out. In regard to the sipping of Clifford's weight, it is not probable that such a frand could have been practised without detection. According to all accounts there was no need for any such game on the part of Clifford's people, for the colt had proven himself a good one. Further details will be awaited with interest.

UNPLEASANT NECESSITY TO BE PERFORMED

Men's and Youths' Suits.

We say "unpleasant necessity" advisedly, because it is not the pleasantest thing in the world for WHOLESALE CLOTHING MANUFACTURERS to be compelled to go into the retail market to dispose of a stock of goods which they had made up in confident expectation of selling it in the usual trade channels. But this has been an extraordinary year in which almost all business foresight and calculation has been upset. stock we miscalculated to the extent of $100,000---no small amount for any business house, no matter how large, to complacently contemplate losing. We confess ourselves unable to meet with such a loss, and since there is no possible chance of disposing of this stock in the usual way, we have decided TO RETAIL IT AT THE WHOLESALE PRICE.
